EASTERN MARKETS

YESTERDAY

(L. J. Overlock)

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Both markets swung back and forth today in very narrow limits. Each day this week it has been expected that of the various reports coming out, at least one would cause the market to regain activity but now that hope is gone and it is evident that we must wait for the leadership of the big interests, it is hard to take a position in such a dull market but from present outlook we advise sales on all rallies as stocks will soon commence to sag in the excitement of presidential campaign.

PAINE WEBBER and CO. Total sales New York 338,800. Government report issued today on wheat, oats and corn considered favorable with promise of heavy yields.
